Bethe OPS Project Business Considerations

Unrestricted license

The following is an agreement between the individuals listed at the end of this agreement, hereinafter referred to as the Authors, and Erica Ostermann, hereinafter referred to as the Client, concerning the Hans Bethe House event sign-up tool, Bethe OPS, and its source code developed by the Authors as part of a CS 5150 project during the semester of Spring 2019 hereinafter referred to as the Work.

Authors' Grant of Rights
1. Subject to the terms and conditions of this license, the Authors grant to the Client unrestricted use of the Work. That is, the Client has the non-exclusive royalty-free worldwide right to reproduce, modify, adapt, prepare derivative works, distribute, publish, transmit, perform and display publicly the Work, or any portion of it, in any language and in any form in any medium, now known or hereafter developed, including print, digital, hypertext, CD-ROM, or any other medium.
2. Under this non-exclusive royalty-free license, the Client is free to sell or give copies of the Work and any derivatives made from the Work.
3. The Library can also license others to use or modify the Work, provided all such sublicenses are limited to non-commercial uses.
4. The Work is a joint work of copyright and this non-exclusive royalty-free license will be valid if signed by all members of the team.

Authors' Ownership of Copyright and Reservation of Rights
1. The Authors transfer the copyright in the Work to the Client.
2. Copyright in any adaptations or improvements made to the Work by Cornell University shall belong to Cornell University and may only be included in the new versions made by the Authors with the Client's permission.

Authors' Warranties and Disclaimer
1. Authors offer the work as-is and make no representations or warranties of any kind concerning the work, express, implied, statutory or otherwise, including, without limitation, warranties of title, merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, or the absence of latent or other defects, accuracy, or the presence of absence of errors, whether or not discoverable.

2. If the Work contains material for which you do not hold copyright, you represent that you have obtained the unrestricted permission of the copyright owner to grant the Client the rights required by this license, and that such third-party owned material is clearly identified and acknowledged within the Work.
